

Conflict of Interest Policy

Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd., places a high priority on its clients' interests. As conflicts of interest affecting clients could undermine the integrity and professionalism of our business, any instances must be identified as early as possible. If conflict situations cannot be avoided, they must be managed equitably and in the client's interest. Detecting potential or recognised conflicts of interest that could compromise the interest of its clients and managing and limiting the impact of conflicts of interest therefore constitute an integral part of Beanstalk's duties and obligations.

I. Conflict of Interest - What do we mean by this?

A conflict of interest is a situation in which the interests of Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. or one of its associates, in the exercise of its activities, and the interests of its clients, are directly or indirectly in competition, and which could significantly prejudice the client's interests. This notion concerns Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. in its capacity as a management company, all individuals working for Beanstalk (employees, associates, service providers, etc.), and the Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. businesses (major shareholders, companies controlled by the Group, etc.). A conflict of interest may occur in the provision of an investment service (management under mandate, fund management and advisory services). A conflict of interest may be recognised (actually identified) or potential (conceivable).

The notion of conflict of interest encompasses a range of very diverse factors such as:

- Rules regarding personal transactions,
- Professional ethics of employees,
- The use of sensitive or privileged information, insider dealing, and professional secrecy,
- Respect for clients' interests,
- Respect for professional obligations in relation to the market and specific to Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd..

II. Conflict of Interest - What is a conflict of interest situation?

Conflict of interest situations that could prejudice a client may take a variety of forms, whether or not Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. suffers any financial loss and independently of whether the actions or the motivations of the employees involved are intentional. At least five types of situations are defined by Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. to help determine whether a potential conflict of interest situation might occur:

- Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd., a department or an employee will realise a financial gain or avoid a potential loss at the client's expense;

- Beanstalk Online Investment (Pty) Ltd., a department or an employee will gain an advantage (financial or in kind) from a third party in the execution of the service conducted on behalf of the client.

III. Conflict of Interest - Prevention, detection and management

Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. has identified specific potential conflicts of interest in relation to its activities. These may be encountered by Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. or its associates when they deliver their services to clients. For each situation, Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. has analysed whether the risk is actual or potential for one or more of its clients. To handle potential or actual conflict of interest situations, Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. may:

- Conduct the transaction while, given the conflict of interest generated by it, implementing procedures that enable appropriate management of the situation in order to avoid damaging the interests of the client in question;
- Avoid conducting the transaction that would potentially generate a conflict of interest;
- Inform the client in the event that certain conflicts of interest cannot be properly handled and communicate the necessary information about the type and origin of the conflict of interest to the client, so that the client can make a fully informed decision regarding the proposed transaction.

Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. has established a management policy for conflicts of interest enabling it to prevent potential conflicts of interest, mitigate and manage actual conflicts of interest and communicate them effectively to clients. This policy is based on a system of prevention, detection, management, communication and recording conflicts of interest.

Conflict of Interest Framework - Controls & Procedures

GUIDE

- * 1. Log the date and contents of the COI (real, existing or potential).
- * 2. Can be communicated via email but must be in writing to the “conflicts officer”. All correspondence relating to conflict to be placed in a company conflicts file.
- * 3. Conflicts officer to liaise with the compliance function to evaluate the conflict and to decide which mechanism to be used to manage conflict (control, avoid or disclose).

If the conflict can be resolved immediately, take the necessary action and advise compliance thereof. The on-going status of the conflict is to be recorded in the register. If the conflict requires further clarity and investigation by any other party, insert comments as appropriate in the appropriate register.

NOTES TO PROCEDURES

1. Assign a member of staff with primary responsibility for identifying, recording and managing conflicts of interest. (For Beanstalk Online Investments (Pty) Ltd. this is Mark Moir, known as the Conflicts Officer).
2. The “Conflicts Officer” will advise all relevant staff of:
 - The definition of ‘conflict of interest’;
 - The main features; and
 - Examples or possible conflicts of interest that may emerge
3. At the same time the Conflicts Officer will co-ordinate a questionnaire (annual) of directors and relevant staff, requiring them to assess all aspects of their responsibilities and their business relationships, with a view to identifying actual or potential conflicts (and circumstances that might be perceived as conflicts). Directors, managers and internal legal and compliance officers should attempt to identify conflicts across the business, while other staff will focus on their individual circumstances. Even when individuals completing the questionnaire are confident that objective financial advice will be provided, in spite of a potential conflict, they should report the conflict: clients and regulators may not easily be persuaded that advice was objective.
4. The “Conflicts Officer” together with compliance will assess the seriousness (with compliance) of identified possible conflicts, and will determine (in consultation with senior management) how the conflict should be managed. Typically this can involve:
 - 4.1 If current disclosures constitute adequate management
 - 4.2 What further disclosures would constitute adequate management?
 - 4.3 Whether or not disclosure alone can adequately manage the conflict. Where it cannot, all stakeholders can decide how the conflict should be avoided, or whether the conflict should be referred for prompt board consideration.
6. The Conflicts Officer will keep adequate records of the controls management process, from identification through to effective resolution of the conflict.
7. The Compliance officer can prepare a report on the management of conflicts of interest, for the Board to consider at intervals appropriate to the business.
8. Conflicts of interest will become a standing agenda item for Board meetings.
9. Procedures can be drafted and adopted by the Board to form part of the compliance documentation, addressing the above steps and responsibilities.
10. The COI procedures and their efficacy in operation will be reviewed by senior management of the FSP in conjunction with compliance.
